The Chinese Language School of Connecticut (“CLSC”) has been committed to providing exceptional Chinese language instruction to learners of all ages since 2002. Our mission is to enable students to learn practical communication skills in Mandarin and develop an appreciation for the Chinese language and culture.

- CLSC has a unique approach to teaching Chinese. CLSC focuses on educating children and exposing them to Chinese language and culture in an inclusive and fun environment. Whatever a child’s background, our children often have their first exposure to learning the Chinese language and culture when participating in one of our programs. Our interactive approach takes into consideration the diverse backgrounds our children come from unlike traditional after school Chinese programs.
- CLSC is fully accredited. Through AdvancEd, CLSC is one of the only accredited Chinese language schools in the country and goes through a rigorous and regular review process to maintain high educational standards.
- CLSC is a not-for-profit 501(C)(3) tax-exempt organization. 100% of our student tuition, fundraising and community support is directed to providing a comprehensive, multifaceted education experience to our children.
- CLSC classes are taught by professional instructors. CLSC faculty consists of experienced, native-speaking, Chinese teachers, all of whom participate regularly in professional in-service training and have undergone background checks.
- CLSC offers classes at Eastern Middle School in Riverside, Connecticut. Sunday classes are offered to students ranging from as young as three to adults. An average of 125 students are taught every Sunday during the school year. Seventy-five percent of our students are from Greenwich and surrounding towns in Connecticut. We also serve families in Westchester County New York and have had families travel from as far away as New Jersey and Manhattan.
- CLSC incorporates Chinese culture. Students are taught the origins and history of the Chinese festivals and holidays through an interactive art-based approach. Much of the art that has been produced by students has been displayed at local galleries and community art shows.
- CLSC partners with local community organizations. CLSC has hosted Chinese story hours at libraries, provided craft workshops at senior centers and art centers, and participated in Lunar New Year festivities at local area businesses.
- CLSC teaches language and cultural enrichment classes at local schools. CLSC has also provided consultation and teacher resources in the development of Chinese curricula to both private and public schools.
